- High emotional intelligence:
I understand and work with complex emotions which means I quickly build trust and relationships with a wide range of people and get to action fast.
- Industry leadership experience:
My work is underpinned by years of hands-on experience in operations management and change management in a global setting at very senior levels.
- Create structure from chaos:
I excels in helping others to unpick complexity and my experience in multi-national companies enables me to help develop and deliver concrete plans.

About me

I was born and raised in the UK and have lived and worked overseas for much of my career. Since 2018 I have been based in Malaysia, and work with clients across the globe.

What I do

I have a practice of individual and team coaching; I work as faculty with the Co-Active Training Institute training new coaches and I design and facilitate events around leadership and human relationship in the workplace. My work is rooted in my own experience as a leader in a corporate setting (I worked for the Shell Oil Company for 20 years in leadership roles) as well as my continuous studies in the field of coaching/ human growth.

Why I do this?

I believe strongly that leaders have a huge responsibility as their thoughts and actions can impact so many lives (not just the lives of those working for them, but others in their organisations, their clients, and the families of all these people). My work therefore is to help leaders grow, and be able to relate to those around them deeply and competently and create an impact that nourishes those around them.
